

Nut, Kookenburrow

The following is the information concerning this organic plant:

Appearance

Hand-sized shell, rough and pointed at both ends. Like the coconut, the Kookenburrow Nut has a this tusk that covers it completely.

% chance to locate per 24 hours: 5%

of checks per 24 hours: 1

Classification: Plant.

Color: Brown.

Location: Above surface in a Kookenburrow Tree.

Maturity: 90 days, during the early spring. The nut can be picked and stored in a dry area for 2 years.

Regional habitation: Jungle.

Smell: Watery cashews.

Uses found: 1-D100 x30 Kookenburrow Nuts found on a mature Kookenburrow Tree.

Value per use: 1 electrum.

Taste: Water chestnut with a hint of cashew.

Texture: This hand-sized shell is rough and pointed at both ends.

Explanation

This nut is a meal of its own; tasty and high in protein.

Area of influence: Consumer.

Damage: None.

Duration of effects: None.

Effect time: None.

Effects: None.

Healing: None.

Immunities: None.

Maximum adjustments: Not applicable.

Overdose symptoms: None.

Range of influence: Consumer.

Resting time: None.

Side effects: None.

Used for: Food source.

Preparation

Pick nut, crack the shell, and eat it.

Avoidance-roll: Not applicable.

Measurement per use: 1 Kookenburrow Nut.