Guardians of Utaemia is a FANTASY ROLE PLAY GAME (FRPG) in which you take on the persona, or act out, the role of a fictional character.

Have you ever read a book and you realize the main character is taking a bad turn? As you read, you become the character, yet second hand in a sense. You cannot control the actions of that character, for the writer has set the story, and the end is predestined to end the same way no matter how many times you read it.

In the world of Utaemia, you are the one that makes the choices. You are the one that writes the story based on your own decisions and actions. In this exciting new FRPG, you will discover many new lands, treasure and wealth untold, and experience a more true to life multi classing of character. In this new world, you can decide to be a warrior that calls down fire or lightning from the heavens upon your enemies. At the end of a great battle, your warrior can then tend to the sick, the wounded, and the dying with the skills unmatched by the old school healers of an ancient and fading world.

In this world you can possess many different circles of knowledge and power, or you can follow a direct path to glory studying but one circle of knowledge . . . this will be strictly up to you adventurer. Good journey to you!
