

Elemental Magician

The Elemental Magician is more combative in the vast realms of all spell-casters, respected by allies, dreaded by foes. Seeking to master the path of the elements, your studies will lead you to harness the power of acid, air, earth, electricity, fire and water.

Become empowered to control the very air about you, repelling an enemy with a sudden burst of wind, drive back a deadly gaseous creature, fill the sails of a ship with the breath of wind, or chill the area, slowing foes and giving your allies a fighting chance.

Call down lightning from the heavens, or cast it from an outstretched hand to devastate an enemy.

Delving into the earthen realm of magic, you can manipulate the very earth itself to seize a foe, or take care of a menacing earthen creature, as few others can.

Call upon the element of fire to scorch and blister your enemies, or cloak your body in a shield of flames to cause painful retribution upon foes who dare strike you.
