

Tuhsk

The following is the information concerning this organic plant:

Appearance

One shoot of Tuhsk will be from 6" to 9" long, and 3" thick. It appears to be a fiber-like stick of some kind, almost as if a coconut husk was growing over it's entire surface.

% chance to locate per 24 hours: 5%

of checks per 24 hours: 1

Classification: Plant.

Color: None.

Location: 1-D6" below surface.

Maturity: 5 years.

Regional habitation: Desert.

Smell: Musty, or earth smell.

Uses found: 1-D10 +5

Value per use: 9 yellow-gold.

Taste: Wood and earth mixed together.

Texture: Rough and very fiber-like; like the husk of a coconut.

Explanation

The Ultarian Desert dwellers make use of this valuable plant, sharpening their weapons with it before each potential battle.

Area of influence: 1 blade.

Damage: x2 damage.

Duration of effects: 4-D6 successful contacts with blade upon a target.

Effect time: Not applicable.

Effects: Us Tuhsk on sharp-edged weapon, as you would use a wet stone, to keen blade.

Healing: None.

Immunities: None.

Maximum adjustments:

Overdose symptoms: None.

Range of influence: 1 blade.

Resting time: None.

Side effects: None.

Used for: Keening any sharp-edged weapon.

Preparation

Pluck Tuhsk and use it on a sharp-edged weapon, like a wet stone.

Avoidance-roll: None.

Measurement per use: Part of the Tuhsk will be lost each time it is used.