Characters, Pre-made:

It's a good idea to pre-make a few characters to act as encounters, or NPCs (non-player characters). Always have a few pre-made characters ready to use for adventures. It eliminates the time you have to spend if you have to make up characters on the spot.

In the future, there will be an executable program online to create and print out characters on the spot.